Abstract

Compositions and methods for improving recovery following general anesthesia are provided. The composition comprises an effective dose of modafinil. Modafinil has been shown to reduce the symptoms associated with post-operative general anesthesia, improving the recovery form anesthesia.